UNITED METHODIST WOMEN READING PROGRAM

Dear Members,

Welcome to the 2020 United Methodist Women Reading Program. The purpose of the Reading Program is to better understand and participate in God's mission today, to increase sensitivity to all human beings, to explore contemporary issues, and to enhance and act on self-knowledge. In particular, the Reading Program committee has worked to select books that will raise the consciousness of our social, economic and political realities, including the interconnectedness of race, class and gender in women's lives.

Participating in the Reading Program is a wonderful way to build community and form friendships around books. I hope you will share this guide with members of your local and district groups, as well as with members of your community. Use it to start discussions about issues addressed in books and to work together to take action.

Please take a look at the Overview (page 3) for information on how to use this guide as well as tips on how to get the most out of the Reading Program. If you've participated in the past, please also be sure to read "New for 2020" (page 4). In this section, you'll learn that ordering books will happen a little differently this year. I'd like to thank you for adjusting to this change and welcome you to reach out at ASalter@unitedmethodistwomen.org if you have any questions.

By participating in the Reading Program, you are strengthening your involvement in local and global Christian mission. I am so pleased that you will be joining us.

God Bless.

Andris Salter
Operations Officer

OVERVIEW

The Reading Program is a cherished United Methodist Women tradition that brings together members in mission as they explore, share and discuss the books.

To participate, select one of the four plans on page 6—and start reading! From captivating novels and heartfelt biographies to urgent messages about issues such as climate change and mass incarceration, there's something for everyone.

Reading Program books are divided into one of five categories (Bonus Books count for two categories each): Education for Mission, Leadership Development, Nurturing for Community, Social Action and Spiritual Growth. Books are available for people of all ages and reading levels. As you read, track your progress using the Reporting Form on page 28. When you submit Report of Completion Requirements, you will be recognized with a Certificate of Recognition [see pg. 30] (more on that under "New for 2020" on next page).

Earning your Certificate of Recognition is just one way to show what you've gained from the Reading Program. The Reading Program is not meant to be completed alone or in a vacuum. As you read, consider taking one or more of the following actions:

Track Your Progress

- Share the program with United Methodist Women members and members of the community.
- Help people attain books. Distribute this guide.
- Connect with local and district groups. Start a book club, download books onto an e-reader to pass around and share, present book reviews at group meetings.
- Display a progress chart in your church for all who wish to participate, and post displays to encourage book sales.
- Pray. Books often raise concerns about people, countries and issues. Bring these concerns to God during your prayer time at home and at group meetings.
- Advocate for tangible change. Many Reading Program books address issues such as climate change, mass incarceration, immigration and racism. Organize a task force to address these issues in your community.

God bless you as you pray, study, act and organize in Christ's name.

NEW FOR 2020

Where to Find Books

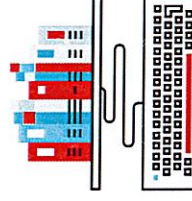

You might notice that books in this publication are not listed with stock numbers; nor will you find the usual order form and shipping information. For the first time, this year United Methodist Women members will obtain Reading Program books exclusively through third parties—libraries, local bookstores and online. Think of this resource not as a catalog, as in past years, but as a guide.

By no longer offering books directly, United Methodist Women will make more efficient use of program resources. If you obtain materials locally, this change will also be good for the environment and will help you to become more connected with your community. Although Amazon is always a convenient option, please consider obtaining Reading Program books through:

- School and public libraries
- Local independent bookstores
- Franchises of larger bookstore chains

As always, most Reading Program books can also be found for reading electronically on your Kindle, tablet or other devices. For ebooks free of charge, check your local library, Google eBookstore, Project Gutenberg or Open Library. Searching for titles on Google might yield even more results.

If you do order books through Amazon, please remember to visit smile.amazon.com, Amazon's charitable giving page, and select "United Methodist Women" as your charitable organization. For all eligible purchases made on smile.amazon.com, Amazon will donate 0.5% to United Methodist Women.

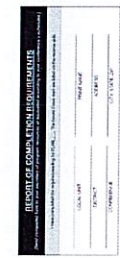

Children and Youth Books

As in the past, this year's Reading Program includes books for readers of all ages. Books that would formerly have been listed under "Children" and "Youth" are now distributed among the remaining categories. Look for the line "Suitable for children" or "Suitable for youth" when selecting books to read.

Bonus Books

As always, Bonus Books count as two books. This year, Bonus Books are also the current mission studies, providing even more of an incentive to select these books as part of your Reading Program plan. To purchase United Methodist Women mission studies, go to: umwmissionresources.org.

I have been a reader in the United Methodist Reading Program for more years than I can remember! I love the variety of books offered. In fact, the Reading Program has become a four-generation activity in my family. My 95-year-old mother, my 36-year-old daughter and I have all read and received certificates for completing various plan levels over the years. And several of the children's books have found their way into the home libraries of my grandchildren."

The Reading Program is probably the main reason I am a member of United Methodist Women. A friend kept telling me that United Methodist Women are the best educated lay people there are. That got my attention because I like to think of myself as well educated and don't believe your education ends when you leave school. And, I have always loved reading. The Reading Program has caused me to read books that I never would have considered reading, and helped me find God in many places. I do feel like my education has continued all these years, thanks to the Reading Program."

Stories of crisis, greed and violence are juxtaposed with powerful examples of solidarity and hope in this urgent and timely message.

THEY WILL INHERIT THE EARTH: PEACE AND NONVIOLENCE IN A TIME OF CLIMATE CHANGE

This well-known gospel is presented through voices and experiences that are often relegated to the margins. Where we stand, what we see, whom we listen to or dismiss shape the way we understand the world and the Bible. This study incorporates the stories of those on the margins to uncover how the gospel is alive and well today—how God is, and always has been, calling us to live out the Word in a radical way.
